Building Powerful CONNECTIONS® Speaking and Presentation Skills Coaching

Unconscious bias, cultural misunderstanding, language differences and communication errors can have a negative impact on your presentations and prevent you from connecting with your audience. The good news is whether it's a seminar, speech, training program, class or meeting, we can learn to successfully communicate our message to a diverse group of individuals. Our fully customized Speaking and Presentation Skills Coaching program will teach you how.

Because of this coaching process, you will be able to:

- Use the Presentation Skills Inventory to identify your strengths and weaknesses as a speaker.
- Apply a 5-Step process to create powerful presentations, improve your eloquence and reduce "stage fright."
- Use The L.U.C.A.S. Approach® to build powerful connections with your audience and articulate your messages more effectively.
- Apply skills such as the S.O.L.E.R. technique, proxemics and kinesics to enhance your ability to connect with diverse audiences.

Testimonials

I have been a pediatrician practicing in a group practice for nearly 30 years, but when I decided to develop a program marrying my medical expertise with my passion for multisport, I was lost. Serendipitously, I had the great fortune of meeting Tyrone at a USAT sponsored business coaching retreat, where he was one of the presenters. The rest is history. In less than one year, he has coached me to developing a concept into a reality! Tyrone is a visionary, who is able to structure, organize, prioritize and succinctly guide in a way that I find simply remarkable. I am amazed at his simplistic genius and continue to be grateful for his business coaching and his kind spirit. Health Powered By You, LLC, is another feather in Tyrone's cap that is already a full headdress!

Hello Tyrone! Thanks again for the great session you presented last night. The "Three Questions" model, tips for facilitating presentations that generate revenue, positioning speaking fees, and practical examples from your experience was all well received. All of the information you shared made participants think about ways they can position what they offer in a different way. We really appreciate your willingness to bring value to our membership!
